Introduction

The IATSE National Pension Fund (referred to in this booklet as the “Fund”) was set up to provide benefits to eligible participants. It was established on May 31, 1957, as the result of various collective bargaining agreements with the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, Moving Picture Technicians, Artists, and Allied Crafts of the United States and Canada (the Union). These collective bargaining agreements are contracts between employers and the Union that, among other things, require the employers to contribute to the Pension Fund on behalf of employees who are covered by the IATSE National Pension Plan B (referred to in this booklet as the Plan or “Plan B”).

The Plan is completely funded through the IATSE National Pension Fund; you are neither required nor permitted to make contributions to the Plan.

Since 1957 when the rules and regulations of the Plan were approved, the Plan has been amended and modified. The latest revisions to the Plan were made in April 2008, and additional amendments are likely as circumstances change. If you have stopped working or retired, your benefits will be governed by the Plan rules in effect at the time you left covered employment. Please contact the Fund Office for further information.

We’ve tried to explain things in everyday language, but you will come across some words and phrases that have specific meanings within the context of the Plan. To help you understand them, they are italicized in the booklet, featured in the “Terms You Should Know” box at the start of each section and included in the glossary that starts on page 42.

---

The Plan is completely funded through the IATSE National Pension Fund; you are neither required nor permitted to make contributions to the Plan. It is administered by a Board of Trustees consisting of representatives appointed by the Union and the contributing employers. The Board of Trustees acts on behalf of you and your fellow Plan participants to manage all aspects of the Fund’s operations.

Pension Plan Highlights

This section summarizes key features of the Plan. You can find the details in the following pages.

Joining the Plan	You become a participant in the Plan on the first January 1 or July 1 after you: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• complete a 12-month period as an employee of an employer that is required to make contributions to the Plan, and</li> <li>• work at least 75 days in covered employment during that period.</li> </ul>
How Employment Counts	The Plan recognizes all your theatrical, motion picture and television industry employment for which an employer is required to contribute to Plan B on your behalf. This is known as covered employment.
Benefit Amount	Your pension is calculated under a formula that takes into account your years of service under the Plan and employer contributions made on your behalf. The amount of your benefit may be reduced if you choose to start receiving payments before normal retirement age and/or select a payment option that provides benefits to your spouse following your death.
Types of Pension	The type of benefit you receive depends on your age and the amount of pension credit you have earned. Available pensions are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• normal pension</li> <li>• early retirement pension</li> <li>• disability pension</li> <li>• vested pension.</li> </ul> If you worked in covered employment under another plan in addition to this one, you may be eligible for a combined pension or a partial pension.
Forms of Payment	How your pension is paid depends on whether you are married when you retire. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• If you are not married, your pension is generally paid as a single life annuity with a 60-month payment guarantee.</li> <li>• If you are married, your pension is generally paid as a husband-and-wife 50% pension, under which you receive a reduced monthly amount for life, with 50% of that reduced monthly amount continuing to your spouse if he or she survives you. You also have the option of electing a husband-and-wife 75% pension or the single life annuity with a 60-month payment guarantee.</li> </ul>
Survivor Benefits	If you die before you retire but after you qualify for a vested pension, your surviving spouse and/or beneficiary may be eligible for a benefit from the Plan.
Who Pays for the Plan	Employers make all contributions to the Pension Fund, as determined by the applicable collective bargaining agreements in effect. You are neither required nor permitted to make contributions to the Plan.

Eligibility and Participation

Terms You Should Know...

- Contributing employer is an employer that has signed a collective bargaining agreement with the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, Moving Picture Technicians, Artists, and Allied Crafts of the United States and Canada (the Union) or any local union chartered by or affiliated with the Union (an affiliated local).
- Covered employment is work for which a contributing employer is required to contribute to the Pension Fund on your behalf under Plan B. For those who earned future service credit before August 15, 2001, it also includes work during the period before your contribution date, for which contributions to the Plan are now required.
- Employee is someone who works for an employer that contributes to the Pension Fund as required by a collective bargaining agreement and includes full-time Fund employees. Office and clerical employees and duly elected or appointed officers of an affiliated local are also eligible to participate in the Plan if the affiliated local makes contributions on behalf of those officers and employees.
- Vested means your non-forfeitable right to receive a future benefit from the Plan, even if you leave covered employment before you retire.

Who's Eligible

You are eligible to participate in Pension Plan B if you work for a contributing employer in covered employment.

When Participation Starts

Your participation in the Plan starts on the first January 1 or July 1 following the end of a period of 12 consecutive months in which you complete at least 75 days of work as an employee in covered employment.

Example. You began work in covered employment on October 1, 2007. On October 1, 2008, you have worked 12 consecutive months, including 92 days in covered employment. Your participation in the Plan becomes effective on January 1, 2009.

Naming a Beneficiary

When you become eligible to participate in the Plan, you will need to name a beneficiary. If you are not married, you can name anyone you want as your beneficiary, and you may change your beneficiary designation at any time before you retire. If you are married, or marry before your benefits commence, your spouse is automatically your beneficiary. To designate someone else, you must have your spouse's written, notarized consent.

If you want to change your beneficiary, or if there is a change in your marital status, please notify the Fund Office immediately. A change of beneficiary takes effect only when you complete a beneficiary designation form and it is received by the Fund Office. You can obtain a form online at www.iatsenbf.org or by contacting the Fund Office at 212-580-9092 or toll-free at 1-800-456-3863 if you call from outside New York City.

You can also change your beneficiary when you apply for a pension by completing the appropriate section of your pension application form.

Keep the Fund Office Informed

In order to ensure fast and accurate pension payment and other services related to your pension, it is important that the Fund Office have the most up-to-date information on file for you. In particular, you must notify the Fund Office directly whenever you and/or your spouse:

- change your name
  - change your postal address
  - change your email address
  - change your telephone number
  - change your marital status (marriage, legal separation or divorce)
  - die.

When Participation Ends

Once participation starts, it continues for as long as you maintain sufficient employment with a contributing employer. Participation ends on the last day of the calendar year in which you experience a one-year break in service (defined on page 11) unless you are vested. You become vested once you have five years of vesting credit (defined on page 9) or five years of future service credit (defined on page 6).

Being vested means you have a non-forfeitable right to a pension at retirement. You become vested once you have five years of vesting credit or five years of future service credit.

---

After participation ends, in order to be reinstated as a participant in the Plan, you must again meet the participation requirements described on page 3.

How Your Service Counts Under the Plan

Terms You Should Know...

- Contribution date. An employer's contribution date is the first date for which that contributing employer is required to contribute to the Pension Fund for any employee. Your contribution date is the employer contribution date of the first employer that contributes to the Fund on your behalf.
- Future service credit is pension credit you earn for work in covered employment after your contribution date.
- Past service credit is pension credit you earn for work in covered employment before your contribution date. You can earn past service credit only if you earned future service credit before August 15, 2001.

Your service is used to determine the type of pension you are eligible for as well as the amount of your benefit. This section gives you important information about how your employment counts as service under the Plan.

Your employment counts two ways under the Plan: as pension credit and vesting credit.

- Pension credit is used to calculate your benefit, as well as to determine your eligibility for certain benefits. Pension credit includes your full and partial years of service.
- Vesting credit is used to determine your right to a pension.

The Fund uses “calendar years” for measuring pension credit and vesting credit. The calendar year begins January 1 and runs through December 31.

Pension Credit

Your years of pension credit are used to determine the amount of your benefit, as well as your eligibility for a pension. There are two types of pension credit that may be used to determine the amount of your pension: future service credit and past service credit.

Future Service Credit

You earn future service credit for covered employment with an employer that is required to contribute to the Pension Fund Plan B on your behalf. In other words, if you work for an employer that was already a contributing employer when your employment began, all of your pension credit will be considered future service.

Your contribution date is the employer contribution date of the first employer that contributes to the Pension Fund on your behalf.

Past Service Credit

If you earned future service credit prior to August 15, 2001, you may also be eligible for past service credit. If eligible, you earn past service credit for covered employment with an employer before that employer was required to make contributions to the Pension Fund on your behalf.

You can receive past service credit only if you earned future service credit before August 15, 2001. Otherwise, you can earn only future service credit.

---

You receive past service credit for years of covered employment before your contribution date, provided you meet any one of the following:

- you earned at least $600 in such employment in each of the two calendar years immediately preceding your contribution date
- you prove on the basis of medical evidence satisfactory to the Trustees that your failure to earn $600 during one of the two calendar years was due to disability (provided, however, that you earned at least $600 in covered employment in the other calendar year)
- you earn five years of future service credit
- prior to your contribution date, you worked for an employer that went out of business or that conducted business in the jurisdiction of an affiliated local on an occasional basis and could not become a contributing employer and the Trustees, in their sole discretion, are satisfied that the work was in a job that qualifies as covered employment and that the employer would have become a contributing employer had it continued its business.

Example. You were hired by an employer in early 1996 and you had not previously worked for any contributing employer. This employer was first required to contribute to the Pension Fund under a collective bargaining agreement starting January 1, 1998. If you continue to work for this employer through 2007, you will have two years of past service credit (for 1996 and 1997) and 10 years of future service credit (for 1998 through 2007).

There are two types of pension credit that may be used to determine the amount of your pension: past service credit (credit earned before your contribution date) and future service credit (credit earned after your contribution date).

---

How Future Service Credit Is Calculated

Your future service credit is calculated based on the period in which you completed work in covered employment.

For periods of covered employment after December 31, 1975. For service after December 31, 1975, future service credit is calculated according to the following schedule:

DAYS FOR WHICH CONTRIBUTIONS ARE PAYABLE IN A CALENDAR YEAR	FUTURE SERVICE CREDIT EARNED
1–11*	1/20
12–22*	2/20
23–33*	3/20
34–44*	4/20
45–55	5/20 (1/4 Year)
56–66	6/20
67–77	7/20
78–88	8/20
89–99	9/20
100–110	10/20 (1/2 Year)
111–121	11/20
122–132	12/20
133–143	13/20
144–154	14/20
155–165	15/20 (3/4 Year)
166–176	16/20
177–187	17/20
188–198	18/20
199–209	19/20
210 or more	20/20 (1 Year)

* If you work fewer than 45 days in covered employment in a calendar year, you will not be credited for any future service credit for that year unless you earn one year of vesting credit in that calendar year under other provisions of the Plan.

For periods of covered employment before January 1, 1976. For service before January 1, 1976, future service credit is calculated according to the following schedule:

Less than 55	0
55 but less than 110	1/4 Year
110 but less than 165	1/2 Year
165 but less than 220	3/4 Year
220 or more	1 Year

How Past Service Credit Is Calculated

If you are eligible, your past service credit for covered employment between 1958 and your contribution date will be calculated according to the following schedule:

YOUR EARNINGS IN A CALENDAR YEAR	PAST SERVICE CREDIT EARNED
At least $300 but less than $600	1/4 Year
At least $600 but less than $900	1/2 Year
At least $900 but less than $1,200	3/4 Year
At least $1,200	1 Year

If you worked in covered employment prior to 1958, other schedules applied for calculating past service credit. Contact the Fund Office for the appropriate schedules.

You will never receive more than one year of pension credit (past service and/or future service) for any calendar year. In addition, you will not receive past service credit for any years prior to any five consecutive calendar years during which you failed to earn at least one quarter of past service credit.

“Two for one” rule. A special “two for one” rule applies to a participant who works under a traveling contract (a “roadperson”) and whose covered employment began prior to January 1, 2007. Under this rule, each day of work is credited as two days for purposes of determining pension credit and vesting credit for determining eligibility for any type of pension under the Plan (normal, early, disability or vested). In calculating a pension, the benefit levels shown on page 14 are reduced by 50% for all pension credit earned under this rule. If the “two for one” rule results in a lower pension, the roadperson will receive the pension calculated without application of the “two for one” rule.

Vesting Credit

Vesting credit is used to determine your vesting status (that is, whether or not you have a non-forfeitable right to a pension) under the Plan. You earn one year of vesting credit for each calendar year in which you work 75 days or more in covered employment. In addition, any days (after December 31, 1975) that you work for a contributing employer in non-covered employment immediately before or after work in covered employment with the same employer will count toward the 75 days required for vesting credit. You need to provide documentation to the Fund Office for your work in non-covered employment; employers do not report non-covered employment to the Fund.

You are vested under the Plan when you earn five years of vesting credit or five years of future service credit. Once you are vested, you have a right to a pension when you reach the required age; you cannot lose it.

On the other hand, if you do not have at least five years of vesting credit or five years of future service credit, you are not vested. If you are not vested, you can lose your earned pension credit by having too many consecutive one-year breaks in service (see “Breaks in Service,” page 11). If this happens, the pension credit you earned will not count toward determining your right to a pension or the amount of your pension.

Once you are vested, your right to a pension cannot be taken away from you even if you leave the industry before you actually retire. You’re considered vested if you have at least five years of vesting credit or five years of future service credit.

Earning Pension Credit During Military Service

You receive pension credit at the rate of five days per week for time away from your job for military service in the Armed Forces of the United States or Canada, provided you return to covered employment when you're discharged from the service within the time required by the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act of 1994 (USERRA), and you notify the Fund Office of your return and provide sufficient documentation of your military service.

To make sure you get the credit you're entitled to for military service, be sure to notify the Fund Office promptly upon your return.

---

If you work for an employer that withdraws from the Plan. If you work for a contributing employer that withdraws from the Plan sooner than five years after it is first required to contribute to the Fund, all pension and vesting credit attributable to that employer prior to the contribution date will be cancelled. In other words, your past service with that employer will not be taken into account in determining your vesting status, pension credit or the amount of your pension.

Breaks in Service

Terms You Should Know...

- One-year break in service occurs generally if you are not credited with 37½ days of covered employment in a given calendar year.
- Permanent break in service occurs generally when you have five consecutive one-year breaks in service.

If your employment is interrupted before you are vested, you may have what is known as a break in service, and you may lose your accumulated vesting credit and pension credit. A break in service may also affect which benefit rate applies when you retire.

Breaks in Service on or after January 1, 1976

One-year break in service. You will incur a one-year break in service if you are credited with fewer than 37½ days of covered employment in any calendar year after your contribution date. If you incur a one-year break, but subsequently earn a year of vesting credit (75 days) before incurring a permanent break in service, your participation in the Plan will be restored on the following January 1 or July 1.

Certain types of parental leave will not result in a break in service. Beginning January 1, 1985, solely for purposes of avoiding a break, you will receive credit for the hours of covered employment you would have completed if not for an absence due to any of the following:

- your pregnancy
- the birth of your child
- the placement of a child with you in connection with your adoption of this child
- caring for your child for a period immediately following birth or adoption.

You must provide sufficient documentation to the Fund Office in order to receive credit. You will receive credit for each day of absence, up to a maximum of 37½, for each pregnancy or adoption. These days will be credited in the year your absence begins, if necessary to avoid a break in service during that year. Otherwise, they will be credited in the following year.

For purposes of determining a partial (or combined) pension (see page 19), you will incur a one-year break in service only if you incur a one-year break in service under both this Plan and a reciprocal (or related) plan.

---

Permanent break in service. Determining when you incur a permanent break in service depends on the date of your absence from covered employment as follows:

- On or after January 1, 1985, you incur a permanent break in service when you have five consecutive one-year breaks in service, including at least one after 1975.
- Before January 1, 1985, you incur a permanent break in service when your consecutive one-year breaks, including at least one after 1975, equal or exceed your years of vesting credit.

If you incur a permanent break in service, you will no longer be considered a participant in the Plan, and you will forfeit all previously earned pension credit and vesting credit. Forfeited pension and vesting credit cannot be reinstated. If you return to covered employment after a permanent break in service, you must meet the participation requirements described on page 3 before you can again begin to earn pension credit as a new participant.

Example. You earn four years of vesting credit for work in covered employment. You then have three one-year breaks in service because you work fewer than 37½ days in each of the next three consecutive years. The following year you work 80 days in covered employment. Since your three one-year breaks in service are fewer than five, you do not incur a permanent break in service.

If your employment is interrupted before you are vested, you may lose your accumulated vesting credit and pension credit. However, once you are vested (generally, once you have at least five years of vesting credit or five years of future service credit), you cannot lose your accumulated vesting credit and pension credit.

Breaks in Service before January 1, 1976

Before January 1, 1976, you incurred a break in service if you failed to earn any future service credit for two consecutive calendar years after you earned two quarters of future service credit. Such a break resulted in the cancellation of all your earned pension credit (both past service and future service). You did not incur a break for absences due to disability, involuntary unemployment, pregnancy or service as an officer or employee of the Union or any of its affiliated locals as long as you provided acceptable, timely proof of the reason for your absence to the Trustees.

When You Can Retire and How Much You'll Receive

Terms You Should Know...

- Normal retirement age is age 65 or your age at your fifth anniversary of Plan participation, whichever is later.
- Retired means you have stopped working in covered employment.
- Weighted average benefit level means the average level of employer contributions made on your behalf during your last three years of future service credit and is used to calculate your benefit.

The Plan provides different types of pensions:

- normal pension
- early retirement pension
- disability pension
- vested pension.

You are entitled to only one type of pension under the Plan, which is determined based on your age and the amount of pension credit you have earned when you retire or otherwise leave covered employment.

---

If you worked in covered employment under another plan, you may be eligible for a combined or partial pension (see page 19).

---

Normal Pension

Eligibility. The Plan provides a normal pension for participants who reach normal retirement age and have:

- at least 15 years of pension credit, including two or more years of future service credit, or
- at least 10 years of future service credit, with at least one-half credit earned after January 1, 1983.

Normal retirement age* under the Plan is age 65 or your age at your fifth anniversary of Plan participation, whichever is later.

---

How a normal pension is calculated. The monthly amount of your normal pension is determined based on your weighted average benefit level and your years of pension credit. Your weighted average benefit level is based on the level of employer contributions made on your behalf (as shown in the chart below) during your last three years of work in covered employment. To determine your monthly pension, your weighted average benefit level is multiplied by your total number of years of pension credit, up to a maximum of 25 (and rounded up to the nearest five cents). See Appendix A on page 44 for a more detailed explanation of how your pension benefit is calculated.

$$\text{Monthly Pension} = \text{Weighted Average Benefit Level} \times \text{Years of Pension Credit}$$

If you retire on or after January 1, 2001, without a protracted absence, your monthly normal pension is calculated as follows:

Step 1	Based on your employer's daily contribution, find your benefit level in the chart below for each of your last three years of work in covered employment . (These rates assume you worked without a protracted absence . See page 15 for more information on the effect of a protracted absence .)

Step 2	Multiply each of the three benefit levels by the amount of pension credit you earned at that benefit level. For example, if your employer's daily contribution is $13 in your last year of employment, your benefit level for that year is $72.68. (If you did not earn a full year of future service credit during one or more of the last three calendar years, this calculation may require more than three calendar years.)
Step 3	Add these amounts together and divide by three. The result is your weighted average benefit level .
Step 4	Multiply your weighted average benefit level by your years of pension credit (up to 25). The result (rounded up to the nearest five cents) is your monthly normal pension amount.

*Note: If a contribution received on your behalf has no corresponding benefit level, you will be credited with the benefit level of the next lowest contribution rate.

If you retired prior to January 1, 2001, different benefit levels apply. Contact the Fund Office for more information.

Example. You retire at age 65 on January 5, 2009, with 22 years of pension credit. During each of your last three years of service, you earned one full year of future service credit, and your employer contributed during 2006, 2007 and 2008 at a daily rate of $8, $11 and $14, respectively. Your monthly normal pension is calculated as follows:

Step 1	Using the chart on the previous page, your benefit levels for your last three years of employment are determined to be $51.75, $63.70 and $77.17.
Step 2	BENEFIT LEVEL	PENSION CREDIT	TOTAL BENEFIT LEVEL
	$51.75	x 1	= $51.75
	$63.70	x 1	= $63.70
	$77.17	x 1	= $77.17
Step 3	$$51.75 + $63.70 + $77.17 = $192.62/3 = $64.21 =$ Your weighted average benefit level
Step 4	$$64.21 \times 22$ years of pension credit = $1,412.62 $1,412.65 = Your monthly normal pension (rounded up to the nearest five cents)

How a protracted absence affects your pension. Your pension is determined under the terms of the Plan in effect at the time you leave covered employment. You are deemed to have separated from covered employment on the last day of work that is followed by two consecutive calendar years, during each of which you fail to work at least 37½ days in covered employment. Following such a separation, if you earn additional future service credit, an additional benefit is computed based on the terms of the Plan then in effect and added to the benefit accrued before the separation from covered employment. However, if you earn at least two additional years of future service credit following such a separation from covered employment, your benefit is computed in accordance with the terms of the Plan in effect when you again separate from covered employment.

Early Retirement Pension

Eligibility. The Plan provides an early retirement pension for participants who want to retire before age 65. You are eligible for an early retirement pension if you are at least age 55 and have:

- at least 15 years of pension credit, including two or more years of future service credit, or
- at least 10 years of future service credit, with at least one-half credit earned after January 1, 1983.

If you satisfy the service requirement but leave covered employment before you reach age 55, you can receive an early retirement pension when you reach age 55.

How an early retirement pension is calculated. Since an early retirement pension is generally paid over a longer period of time than a normal pension, the amount of the benefit is reduced. A monthly early retirement pension is calculated as follows:

Step 1	Calculate your monthly normal pension.
Step 2	Multiply 1/2 of 1% (.005) times the number of months that you are younger than age 65 when payment begins. This is your reduction factor.
Step 3	Multiply your monthly normal pension by the reduction factor to calculate the amount of your early retirement reduction.
Step 4	Subtract your early retirement reduction from your normal pension. The result (rounded up to the nearest five cents) is your monthly early retirement pension.

Example. You retire in 2009 at age 60 with 17 years of pension credit. During each of your last three years of service, you earned one full year of future service credit, and your employer contributed at a daily rate of $7.59, $10 and $11. Here's how your unreduced monthly normal pension would be calculated:

Step 1	Using the chart on page 14, your benefit levels for your last three years of employment are determined to be $49.83, $61.11 and $63.70.
Step 2	BENEFIT LEVEL	PENSION CREDIT	TOTAL BENEFIT LEVEL
	$49.83	x 1	= $49.83
	$61.11	x 1	= $61.11
	$63.70	x 1	= $63.70
Step 3	$$49.83 + $61.11 + $63.70 = $174.64/3 = $58.21 = \text{Your weighted average benefit level}$
Step 4	$$58.21 \times 17 \text{ years of pension credit} = $989.57$

Since your pension will begin at age 60 (60 months before age 65), your benefit is reduced, as follows:

Step 1	$$989.57 = \text{Your monthly normal pension}$
Step 2	$0.005 \times 60 = 0.3 = \text{reduction factor}$
Step 3	$0.3 \times $989.57 = $296.87 = \text{early retirement reduction}$
Step 4	$$989.57 - $296.87 = $692.70$ $692.70 = Your monthly early retirement benefit

Disability Pension

Eligibility. If you become totally and permanently disabled before age 65, you may be eligible to begin receiving a disability pension on the first day of the seventh month after your disability begins. To be eligible for a disability pension, you must:

- be younger than age 65, and
- have at least 15 years of pension credit, including at least two years of future service credit, or have at least 10 years of future service credit, with at least one-half credit earned after January 1, 1983, and
- have worked in covered employment for at least 75 days in the 24 months before your disability began, and
- have a Social Security disability award.

The Board of Trustees will ask you to submit initial proof plus proof of continued entitlement to Social Security disability benefits.

If you lose your eligibility for Social Security disability benefits before age 65, you must notify the Fund Office immediately and your disability pension will stop. Please note, however, that you may be eligible for an early retirement pension if you are over age 55. In addition, you may be eligible for a normal pension once you reach age 65. Failure to notify the Fund Office when your Social Security disability benefits stop could result in the reduction of any subsequent retirement benefits.

Totally and permanently disabled* means that you've been awarded Social Security disability benefits. The Board of Trustees will ask you to submit initial proof plus proof of continued entitlement to Social Security disability benefits. If you lose your eligibility for Social Security benefits before you reach age 65, you are required to notify the Fund Office immediately.

---

How a disability pension is calculated. A disability pension is calculated the same way as a normal pension. Even though you will start receiving benefits before age 65, there will be no reduction for early payments as is the case with an early retirement pension.

Earnings by disability pensioners. If you engage in any work while receiving a disability pension, you must notify the Fund Office by registered or certified mail within 15 days of beginning such work. If you fail to notify the Fund Office, the Trustees may disqualify you for the time that you worked as well as an additional 12 months after your work ends.

Returning to work. If you recover from your disability and return to work in covered employment, you can continue to earn credit toward a pension without any penalty.

Vested Pension

Eligibility. The vested pension is a special type of pension that you may be eligible to receive at or after age 65. To be eligible for a vested pension, you must not be eligible for a normal pension, and you must meet one of the following requirements:

- reach normal retirement age while a participant in the Plan, or
- have at least five years of vesting or future service credit, including at least one year of future service credit after 1987.

How a vested pension is calculated. A vested pension is calculated the same way as a normal pension except:

- only future service credit counts, and
- the resulting pension amount is reduced by 25%.

Example. You retire at age 68 with seven years of future service credit and two years of past service credit under the Plan. During each of your last three years of service, you earned one full year of future service credit, and your employer contributed at a daily rate of $11, $7.59 and $9, respectively. Your vested pension is calculated as follows:

Step 1	Using the chart on page 14, your benefit levels for your last three years of employment are determined to be $63.70, $49.83 and $56.42.
Step 2	BENEFIT LEVEL	PENSION CREDIT	TOTAL BENEFIT LEVEL
	$63.70	x 1	= $63.70
	$49.83	x 1	= $49.83
	$56.42	x 1	= $56.42
Step 3	$$63.70 + $49.83 + $56.42 = $169.95 / 3 = $56.65 =$ Your weighted average benefit level
Step 4	$$56.65 \times 7$ years of future service credit = $396.55
Step 5	75% of $396.55 = $297.41 $297.45 = Your monthly vested pension (rounded up to the nearest five cents)

If You Worked in Covered Employment Under Another Plan

You may be eligible for a combined pension or a partial pension if you worked in covered employment under another plan in addition to Pension Plan B.

Combined Pension

Terms You Should Know...

- Related pension credit is pension credit you maintain under Pension Plan C, and pension credit you accumulated prior to January 1, 2000 and maintain under Pension Plan A. Related pension credit accumulated under Plan A or Plan C is calculated on the basis of credit earned under those plans.
- Combined pension credit is your total pension credit under Pension Plan B plus your related pension credit. No more than one year of combined pension credit is counted in a given calendar year.
- Related vesting credit is vesting credit you accumulate and maintain under Pension Plan C, and vesting credit you accumulated prior to January 1, 2000 and maintain under Pension Plan A.
- Combined vesting credit is your total vesting credit under Pension Plan B plus your related vesting credit. For years you work in covered employment under both Plan B and a related plan, your credited work under the related plan will be combined with your days under Plan B to determine whether you earn vesting credit for that year. No more than one year of combined vesting credit is counted in a given calendar year.

Eligibility. You are eligible for a combined pension if the total of your pension credit under Plan B and your related pension credit under Plan A or Plan C entitles you to a pension under Plan B.

Your years of pension credit from Plan A, Plan B and Plan C can never exceed a combined total of 25 years. This limit applies even if you are eligible for a pension under Plan B without the credit from Plan A or C.

---

How combined vesting credit is calculated. Your combined vesting credit is determined by adding your years of vesting credit under Plan B to your years of related vesting credit. In addition, you earn a year of vesting credit if your days credited under Plan B plus your covered employment credited under Plan A or Plan C are sufficient to earn a vesting credit.

For example, if in one year you are credited with 40 days under Plan B and 40 days under Plan C, you will earn a vesting credit for that year because your total days exceed 75, the minimum required to earn a vesting credit. If you worked under both Plan B and Plan A, your days under Plan B will be converted to hours (1 day = 10 hours) and then added to your hours under Plan A. If the total hours equal or exceed 750 (the minimum required to earn a vesting credit under Plan A), you will earn a vesting credit for that year. However, you cannot earn more than one vesting credit in any one year.

How a combined pension is calculated. The monthly amount of your combined pension benefit payable under Plan B is your accrued benefit based only on pension credit you earned under Plan B. Your pension benefit under Plan B will be calculated in the same way as a normal (or early, vested or disability) pension; your Plan B benefit will be combined with any benefit you earned under Plan A (or Plan C, whichever applies). If you have more than 25 years of combined pension credit, your total benefit will reflect the most recent 25 years.

Vesting credit and pension credit with a related plan will be considered when determining whether you have separated from covered employment for purposes of a protracted absence, as described on page 15.

Example. You earned four years of pension credit under Pension Plan B and 11 years of pension credit under Pension Plan C, which makes you eligible for an early retirement pension under Plan B. The amount of your pension from Plan B, however, will be based solely on the four years of pension credit you earned under Pension Plan B. Your total pension will be the sum of your pension earned under Plan B and the amount credited for your 11 years under Plan C.

Partial Pension

Terms You Should Know...

- Reciprocal plan is another pension plan with which Plan B has a reciprocal agreement regarding pension credit and vesting credit. Currently, Plan B has reciprocal agreements with the Local 798 Pension Plan and the Local 764 Pension Plan.
- Reciprocal service credit is pension credit you accumulate and maintain under a reciprocal plan.
- Aggregate service credit is the sum of your pension credit earned under this Plan and your reciprocal service credit. No more than one year of aggregate service credit is counted in any calendar year.
- Reciprocal vesting credit is vesting credit you accumulate and maintain under a reciprocal plan.
- Aggregate vesting credit is the sum of your vesting credit earned under this Plan and your reciprocal vesting credit. No more than one year of aggregate vesting credit is counted in any calendar year.

Eligibility. You may be eligible for a partial pension if you do not have enough pension or vesting credit under Plan B to earn a benefit because your employment was divided between Plan B and a reciprocal plan (currently, the Local 798 Pension Plan or the Local 764 Pension Plan).

You are eligible for a partial pension if:

- you would be eligible for any type of pension under Plan B if your aggregate service credit and aggregate vesting credit were treated as pension credit and vesting credit under Plan B
- you have at least two years of future service credit under Plan B (including related pension credit under Plan A and Plan C), and
- no other pension is payable to you from Plan B or from a reciprocal plan without applying the partial pension rules. However, you may elect to waive the other pension (from this or the reciprocal plan) in order to be eligible for a reciprocal pension.

If you have service with a reciprocal plan, you must contact the Fund Office and provide documentation of reciprocal credit. The Fund Office does not automatically receive information from the reciprocal plans.

---

How a partial pension is calculated. The monthly amount of your partial pension is calculated as follows:

Step 1	Determine the amount of your pension under Plan B taking into account your aggregate service credit .
Step 2	Divide your pension credit under Plan B by your total aggregate service credit .
Step 3	Multiply the result from Step 2 by the pension amount determined in Step 1. The result is your monthly partial pension.

Example. You retire at age 66 with four years of pension credit under Plan B and four years of pension credit under the Local 798 Pension Plan. Your monthly pension under Plan B using your aggregate service credit and based on the benefit levels in effect during your last three years of covered employment is $680. Your partial pension is determined as follows:

Step 1	$680 (Your monthly pension under Plan B)
Step 2	$4/8 = 0.5$ (Your pension credit under Plan B divided by your aggregate service credit )
Step 3	$0.5 \times $680 = \mathbf{$340}$ = Your monthly partial pension

How Your Pension Is Paid

When you retire, the Plan will pay you benefits in either a standard or optional payment form. The way your pension is normally paid depends on whether you're single or married when payments start.

Single Life Annuity with a 60-Month Guarantee

If you are single when you retire, the standard form of payment is a single life annuity with a 60-month payment guarantee (that is, five years of payments are guaranteed). Under this payment method, you receive payments in equal monthly installments that begin when you retire and continue for your lifetime. If you die before receiving 60 monthly payments, the remainder of the 60 payments will be paid to your designated beneficiary. If you die after the end of the 60-month period, all payments stop and no benefits are paid to your beneficiary.

This form of payment is also an option for married participants. (See page 25 for more information.)

Example. You are not married when you retire from covered employment and begin to receive monthly pension checks. At the time of your death, you have received 45 checks. The remaining 15 checks are paid to your beneficiary.

Husband-and-Wife 50% Pension

If you are married when you retire, the standard form of payment is a husband-and-wife 50% pension. This form gives you a reduced monthly benefit during your lifetime. Upon your death, your spouse receives 50% of the monthly benefit you were receiving, payable monthly for the rest of his or her life. You and your spouse must have been married for at least one year before your death in order for continuing benefits to be payable. After your spouse dies, no further benefits will be paid. If your spouse dies before you do, your monthly payments will "pop up" (increase) to the amount payable before the husband-and-wife reduction. After you die, no further payments will be made.

If you are married, you must have your spouse's written, notarized consent to choose a payment form other than the husband-and-wife 50% pension.

---

You and your surviving spouse must have been married for at least one year before your death in order for a husband-and-wife pension to be payable to your spouse after your death.

With a husband-and-wife 50% pension, your benefit is reduced to pay for the cost of continuing benefit payments to your spouse after your death. The amount of the reduction depends on your age and your spouse's age when payments to you begin.

- For all pensions except a disability pension, the reduced pension is 90% of the regular pension plus (or minus) four-tenths of one percent for each full year that your spouse is older (or younger) than you, to a maximum of 99%.
- For disability pensions, the reduced percentage is 82% of the regular pension plus (or minus) four-tenths of one percent for each full year that your spouse is older (or younger) than you, to a maximum of 99%.

Example. When you retire, you are 65 and your spouse is 62 (three years younger). If your normal pension is $1,000 per month, here's how your benefit and your spouse's benefit under the husband-and-wife 50% pension would be calculated:

Step 1	$0.4\% \times 3 \text{ years} = 1.2\%$ $90\% - 1.2\% = 88.8\%$ = Reduction to your benefit
Step 2	$0.888 \times $1,000 = $888$ = Your monthly benefit under the husband-and-wife 50% pension
Step 3	$$888 \times .50 = \mathbf{$444}$ = Your surviving spouse's monthly benefit

---

You will receive a husband-and-wife 50% pension if you are married on the date your pension begins, unless you elect otherwise and your spouse consents in writing (as described on page 25).

Husband-and-Wife 75% Pension

This payment method is available to you as an option if you are married and your pension begins on or after January 1, 2008. It provides reduced monthly payments for your lifetime. Upon your death, your spouse will receive 75% of the monthly benefit you were receiving, payable monthly for the rest of his or her life. After your spouse dies, no further benefits will be paid. If your spouse dies before you do, your monthly payments will “pop up” (increase) to the amount payable before the husband-and-wife reduction. After you die, no further payments will be made.

With a husband-and-wife 75% pension, your benefit is reduced to pay for the cost of continuing benefit payments to your spouse after your death. The amount of the reduction depends on your age and your spouse's age when payments to you begin.

- For all pensions except a disability pension, the reduced pension is 85% of the regular pension plus (or minus) six-tenths of one percent for each full year that your spouse is older (or younger) than you, to a maximum of 99%.
- For disability pensions, the reduced pension is 74% of the regular pension plus (or minus) five-tenths of one percent for each full year that your spouse is older (or younger) than you, to a maximum of 99%.

Example. When you retire, you are 68 and your spouse is 72 (four years older). If your normal pension is $1,200 per month, here's how your benefit amount under the husband-and-wife 75% pension would be calculated:

Step 1	$0.6\% \times 4 \text{ years} = 2.4\%$ $85\% + 2.4\% = 87.4\% = \text{Reduction to your benefit}$
Step 2	$0.874 \times $1,200 = $1,048.80 = \text{Your monthly benefit under the husband-and-wife 75\% pension}$
Step 3	$$1,048.80 \times .75 = \mathbf{$786.60} = \text{Your surviving spouse's monthly benefit}$

Lump Sum Payment

If the monthly amount of your pension is $50 or less, and the value of your accrued benefit does not exceed $1,000, your entire pension will be paid automatically in one lump sum.

Electing a Payment Option

If you are married. If you're married, you may elect a payment form other than the husband-and-wife pension with your spouse as beneficiary. You may elect the single life annuity with a 60-month payment guarantee as described on page 22, either with your spouse or someone else as beneficiary. To do so, you must specify that you wish to receive an optional form of payment and/or non-spouse beneficiary on the applicable form(s) (available from the Fund Office). Your spouse must provide written, notarized consent of your alternate payment form and/or your choice of beneficiary, and you and your spouse must sign the form within 180 days, but no less than 30 days, before your pension begins.

Your spouse's written, notarized consent is required for any subsequent change of beneficiary or payment form. If you have a court order of separation or abandonment, or you cannot locate your spouse, you do not need your spouse's permission to elect a form of payment other than the husband-and-wife 50% pension.

If you are married, you have from 30 to 180 days before your first payment is scheduled to elect a form of payment other than the husband-and-wife 50% pension. Keep in mind that to do so, you will need your spouse's written, notarized consent. Pension forms and other required paperwork are available from the Fund Office.

---

If you are single. If you're single, your pension is paid automatically as a single life annuity with a 60-month payment guarantee. No other payment options are available.

---

See "Applying for Benefits" on page 30 for information about how to complete your application, when payments will begin and how to defer your payment start date beyond your retirement.

If You Die Before You Retire

The primary purpose of the Plan is to provide income for you after you retire. However, the Plan also provides a measure of financial protection for your spouse or other beneficiary if you die before your payments begin.

---

A preretirement surviving spouse pension pays benefits if you die after you've earned a vested right to a pension but before your benefit begins.

Preretirement Surviving Spouse Pension

A preretirement surviving spouse pension pays benefits if you die after you've earned entitlement to a pension but before your benefit begins. Under this special form of payment, your spouse will receive 50% of the pension you would have received if you had retired on the day before your death and applied for a pension as a single life annuity (not a reduced husband-and-wife pension). To qualify, you and your spouse must have been married for at least one year on the day you die. The benefit amount is based upon the benefits you had earned prior to your death.

- If you die after you reach age 65 and have satisfied the service requirement for a normal pension, your surviving spouse will receive 50% of the pension you would have received if you had retired on the day before your death with a single life annuity. Your surviving spouse will begin receiving payments the month following the month in which you die.
- If you die before age 65, but after reaching age 55 and have satisfied the service requirement for an early retirement pension, your surviving spouse will receive 50% of the pension you would have received if you had retired on the day before your death with an early retirement pension as a single life annuity. Your surviving spouse will begin receiving payments the month following the month in which you die.
- If you die before you reach age 55 and have satisfied the service requirement for an early retirement pension, your surviving spouse will receive a pension starting after the month you would have reached age 55. The amount of the pension will be 50% of the monthly pension you would have received if you had left covered employment on the day before your death, retired with an early retirement pension as a single life annuity once you reached age 55 and died on the last day of the month in which you reached age 55.
- If you die before you reach age 65, but have not satisfied the service requirements for an early retirement pension, your surviving spouse will begin receiving a pension after the month you would have reached age 65. The amount of the pension will be 50% of the monthly pension you would have received if you had retired the day before your death with a single life annuity.

Preretirement Death Benefit

If you're not married or you are married but waived the surviving spouse annuity, the Plan will pay a preretirement death benefit to your designated beneficiary if you meet the age and service requirements for a pension, but die before benefit payments begin. Your designated beneficiary will receive 60 payments, starting the month following your death, in the monthly amount you would have received had you retired the day before your death.

If you have no written beneficiary designation on file with the Fund Office, or if your named beneficiary dies before you, pension payments will be made to your children or parents, in that order. If no such individual survives you, all further payments will end.

Lump Sum Death Benefit

If the monthly amount of the pension payable to your surviving spouse or other beneficiary is $50 or less, and the value of the pension or remainder of the 60 payments (as the case may be) does not exceed $1,000, your surviving spouse or other beneficiary will receive the benefit in one lump sum payment.

---

The Fund Office must be notified, in writing, of the person you would like to designate as your beneficiary. See "Naming a Beneficiary" on page 3 for more information.

Reemployment After Retirement

If you return to covered employment after you retire, but before age 70½, your pension payments may be suspended if you work sufficient hours in “disqualifying employment,” as described below. In general, disqualifying employment is any self-employment or employment with a contributing employer (that is, work in covered employment) in the theatrical, motion picture or television industry and within the geographic area covered under the Plan.

If your work after retirement does not result in a suspension, you will continue to receive benefits without penalty, regardless of your earnings. Your pension will be recalculated annually to take into account any additional pension credit earned.

In general, disqualifying employment is any work in covered employment within the geographic area covered under the Plan. Your pension payments will not be suspended if you work in employment that is not considered disqualifying.

When Your Pension Is Suspended

The suspension rules that apply to you depend on whether or not you have reached normal retirement age when you work in disqualifying employment, as described below. Normal retirement age is 65 or your age at your fifth anniversary of Plan participation, whichever is later.

Before normal retirement age. Before normal retirement age, your pension will be suspended for any month you work a day of service in disqualifying employment. This includes days or shifts for which you were entitled to be paid even though no duties were performed (e.g., vacation, holidays, jury duty, etc.). In addition, your pension will be suspended for six consecutive months after any period in which you engage in disqualifying employment.

If you fail to notify the Fund Office of employment that may be disqualifying, your pension may be suspended for up to an additional six months.

---

After normal retirement age. After normal retirement age, but before age 70½, your pension will be suspended for any month you work eight or more days of service in disqualifying employment. This includes days or shifts for which you were entitled to be paid even though no duties were performed (e.g., vacation, holidays, jury duty, etc.). After you reach age 70½, your pension will not be suspended no matter how many hours you work in disqualifying employment.

Benefit Payments Following Suspension

If your pension payments resume following a suspension due to disqualifying employment, there will be no adjustment to increase benefits for the period during which your benefits were suspended unless you earned additional pension credit. Any active increases during your reemployment only apply to credit you earn after such increases, unless you retire on or after April 1 of the year you reach age 70½.

If your benefit starts before normal retirement age. If your pension payments resume following a suspension due to disqualifying employment before normal retirement age, the benefit you receive when your benefits resume is subject to certain adjustments. For example, suppose you retire at age 60 with a reduced benefit (since you're retiring 60 months before age 65). You then return to work for 10 months and your pension is suspended. When your benefit resumes, the amount of your original benefit is reduced for only 50 months (60 months minus the 10-month suspension) rather than the original 60 months. In other words, reemployment before normal retirement age reduces the amount of your early retirement reduction by the number of months your benefit was suspended.

Once you reach age 70½, your pension payments will not be suspended no matter how many days you work in disqualifying employment.

---

If you earn additional pension credit during your reemployment. When your benefits resume, you will be entitled to your original benefit plus any additional amount you earned during your period of reemployment (reduced if payments begin before your normal retirement age). If you earn at least five consecutive years of vesting credit during your reemployment, your entire benefit (both your original benefit and your additional benefit) will be calculated based on your age when benefits resume regardless of how long benefits were suspended.

---

Your pension payments will not resume until you notify the Fund Office that disqualifying employment has ended.

---

Suspension Recovery

You will be entitled to recover your suspended pension payments within the six-month period following the end of the calendar year of suspension if:

- you initially received the written consent of the Union to resume work in disqualifying employment and filed such approval with the Fund Office before the start of your disqualifying employment; and
- by the end of the calendar year in which you performed such work in disqualifying employment, you:
  - earned less than the Social Security wage base maximum for that year, and
  - received Social Security benefits for each month that you engaged in such disqualifying employment.

Applying For Benefits

When you're ready to retire and elect your pension, contact the Fund Office for the appropriate application forms. To make sure your benefit payments are not delayed, you must complete an application for a pension, including all required documents, as described in the application. You must send the completed application to the Fund Office at least three months before the date you expect benefit payments to begin. You can elect the form of payment you'd like to receive at least 30 but no more than 180 days before the date you want your pension to start. Once you make your election, you can change it at any time before payments start. However, once benefit payments begin, the form of payment cannot be changed.

Early completion of your pension application will avoid a delay in processing your application and payment of benefits.

---

You may also log on to www.iatsenbf.org to find the forms you need to complete your pension application, as outlined below.

- Click "Participant" under the "Who Are You?" heading on the homepage.
- On the Participant page, click "Forms" towards the top of the page.
- Under the "Retirement Plans" heading, you will find the forms you need to apply for your pension, including a pension application form and a beneficiary designation form.
- Download, print and complete the pension application and beneficiary designation forms.
- Mail your completed application, along with all required documents (e.g. birth certificate, marriage certificate, etc.) to the Fund Office at the following address:

IATSE National Pension Fund (Plan B)
417 Fifth Avenue, 3rd Floor
New York, NY 10016-2204

Within 90 days after your application is received, the Trustees will inform you whether your application is approved, denied or deferred. The Trustees will also notify you if additional information is needed to process your application. See the section called "Other Information You Should Know" for more information and steps on how to appeal a denied claim.

---

You can elect the form of payment you'd like to receive at least 30 but no more than 180 days before the date you want your pension to start. Once you make your election, you can change it at any time before payments start.

---

When Payments Begin

If your application is approved, your pension will ordinarily be effective the first day of the month following the month after you filed your application.

As long as your application is approved, your pension payments will begin no later than 60 days after the end of the calendar year in which the latest of the following occurs:

- you reach normal retirement age,
- you retire, or
- you reach the fifth anniversary of participation in the Plan.

Deferred Payment

If you prefer, you can delay payments beyond your retirement. If you defer benefit payments past your normal retirement age (age 65 or your age at the fifth anniversary of participation in the Plan, whichever is later) and do not continue to work in covered employment, your pension will be calculated using the rules that were in effect when you reached normal retirement age. It will be actuarially adjusted to account for the payments you missed after reaching normal retirement age. You may also elect a retroactive lump sum. However, if you are married and have elected the husband-and-wife pension, you will need your spouse's permission to elect the lump sum.

If you continue to work in covered employment past your normal retirement age, your pension will include years of service and additional earnings after normal retirement age. However, it will not be adjusted to account for delayed payment or for any increases granted pensioners while you continue to work in covered employment.

Required starting date. Your pension payments must begin no later than the April 1 of the year following the later of the year in which you reach age 70½ or the year you retire. If you are a 5% owner of a contributing employer, your pension payments must begin no later than the April 1 of the year following the year in which you reach age 70½.

Other Information You Should Know

This section contains other important information you should know about the IATSE National Pension Fund.

Appealing a Denied Claim

If your application for a benefit is denied, in whole or in part, you will receive written notice of that decision from the Board of Trustees within 90 days after receipt of your claim for benefits. If, due to special circumstances beyond the control of the Fund, more time is needed to process a claim, the claimant will receive a written notice, before the initial 90-day period expires, that the 90-day period has been extended for up to an additional 90 days, along with an estimate of the date on which a final decision is expected.

The notice of the Board's decision will explain all of the following:

- the specific reasons for the denial
- reference to the exact Plan provision(s) on which the decision is based
- what additional material or information is needed to process your application, and what procedure you should follow to get your application reviewed again, and
- a description of the Fund's review procedures and the applicable time limits, as well as a statement of your right to bring a civil action under ERISA following an adverse benefit determination on review.

If the Trustees deny your application, you have the right to apply for a review by the Board of Trustees. You must do this in writing within 60 days after you receive the application denial notice. Your request should state clearly the reasons for your appeal and should include any additional documents, records or other evidence that you believe should be considered in connection with your appeal. If you request it, you will be provided access to or copies of all documents, records or other information relevant to your appeal.

If your application is denied, you can apply for a review of your application. You have 60 days to appeal from the date you receive notice that your application has been denied.

---

The Trustees will make a full and fair review as soon as possible after your request is submitted. The decision following the review will be made by the Trustees at their next regularly scheduled meeting, unless your request is filed less than 30 days prior to the next meeting. If this is the case, the decision will be made at the next regularly scheduled Trustee meeting. If, due to special circumstances beyond the control of the Fund, more time is needed to process a claim, the decision may be made at the third meeting following receipt of such request and the claimant will receive a written notice in advance of any such extension. You will be notified in writing of the determination on review within five days after the determination is made. If an adverse benefit determination is made on review, the notice will explain the following:

- the specific reasons for the denial
- reference to the specific Plan provision(s) on which the decision is based
- a statement that the claimant is entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to the claimant's claim for benefits; and
- a statement describing the claimant's rights to obtain additional information regarding the Plan's appeals process, including a statement of the claimant's right to bring a civil action under section 502(a) of ERISA.

The decision of the Trustees on review shall be final and binding on all parties. Please note that you may not pursue any action in court until you have exhausted this claims procedure.

Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation

Your pension benefits under this multiemployer Plan are insured by the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC), a federal insurance agency. A multiemployer plan is a collectively bargained pension arrangement involving two or more unrelated employers, usually in a common industry.

Under the multiemployer plan program, the PBGC provides financial assistance through loans to plans that are insolvent. A multiemployer plan is considered insolvent if the plan is unable to pay benefits (at least equal to the PBGC's guaranteed benefit limit) when due.

The maximum benefit that the PBGC guarantees is set by law. Under the multiemployer program, the PBGC guarantee equals a participant's years of service multiplied by 100% of the first $11 of the monthly benefit accrual rate and 75% of the next $33. The PBGC's maximum guarantee limit is $35.75 per month times a participant's years of service. For example, the maximum annual guarantee for a retiree with 30 years of service would be $12,870.

The PBGC guarantee generally covers normal and early retirement benefits, disability benefits for disabilities that occurred before the Plan becomes insolvent, and certain annuity benefits for your survivors. The PBGC guarantee generally does not cover any of the following:

- benefits greater than the maximum guaranteed amount set by law
- benefit increases and new benefits based on plan provisions that have been in place for fewer than five years at the earlier of the date the plan terminates or the time the plan becomes insolvent
- benefits that are not vested because you have not worked long enough
- benefits for which you have not met all of the requirements at the time the plan becomes insolvent
- non-pension benefits, such as health insurance, life insurance, certain death benefits, vacation pay, and severance pay.

---

The PBGC insures most vested benefits up to certain limits. For more information, call the PBGC at 1-202-326-4000 or visit their website at: www.pbgc.gov. TTY/TDD users may call 1-800-877-8339.

---

For more information about the PBGC and the benefits it guarantees, ask the Fund Office or contact the PBGC's Technical Assistance Division, 1200 K Street N.W., Suite 930, Washington, D.C. 20005-4026 or call 1-202-326-4000 (not a toll-free number). TTY/TDD users may call the federal relay service toll-free at 1-800-877-8339 and ask to be connected to 1-202-326-4000. Additional information about the PBGC's pension insurance program is available through the PBGC's website on the Internet at www.pbgc.gov.

How Benefits Can Be Reduced, Delayed or Lost

There are certain situations under which benefits can be reduced, delayed or lost. Most of these circumstances are spelled out in the previous sections, but your benefits will also be affected if you or your beneficiary:

- do not file a claim for benefits properly or on time
- do not furnish the information required to complete or verify a claim
- do not have your current address on file with the Fund Office
- claim credit for service not reflected in the Fund's records without providing documentation (such as pay stubs) to support the claim.

Assignment of Benefits

Benefits under the Plan are for your benefit only. They cannot be sold, transferred, assigned or pledged to anyone; nor are benefits subject in any manner to anticipation, alienation, encumbrance or charge. However, the Plan will comply with the following:

- a Qualified Domestic Relations Order (QDRO) that gives someone else a right to a portion of your pension, as described below.
- any offset permitted under Section 401(a)(13) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Qualified Domestic Relations Orders (QDROs)

A QDRO is a court order or judgment that directs the Plan to pay benefits to your spouse, former spouse, child or other dependent in connection with child support, alimony or marital property rights. The Plan Trustees are required by law to follow the terms of QDROs. In addition, until the Plan has complied with the terms of the QDRO, the Board of Trustees may restrict the pension benefit that is payable to you. These restrictions could also apply during any period when the Board of Trustees is determining whether a written order satisfies the QDRO requirements in the Internal Revenue Code.

You will be notified if the Plan receives a proposed QDRO with respect to your pension. For more information on QDROs, or to get a free copy of the procedures the Trustees follow in determining whether an order is qualified, contact the Fund Office.

Incapacitation

If anyone is entitled to receive benefits from the Plan, and is judged by the Trustees to be physically or mentally incapable of handling personal affairs, the Trustees may pay the benefit to a legal representative or other person, as the Trustees deem in the best interest of the beneficiary.

Compliance with Federal Law

The Plan is governed by regulations and rulings of the Internal Revenue Service and the Department of Labor, and current federal tax law. The Plan will always be construed to comply with these regulations, rulings and laws. Generally, federal law takes precedence over state law.

Plan Change or Termination

The Trustees intend to continue the benefits described in this book indefinitely. However, the Trustees reserve the right, in their sole and absolute discretion, to terminate the Plan in whole or in part at any time; to modify or amend the Plan in whole or in part; and to change or discontinue the type and amounts of benefits offered by the Fund. If the Plan is ended, you will be fully vested in any benefit you have accrued to the extent then funded. Plan assets will be applied to provide benefits in accordance with the applicable provisions of federal law.

Recovery of Overpayment

If for any reason benefit payments are made to any person from the Fund in excess of the amount which is due and payable for any reason including, without limitation, mistake of fact or law, reliance on any false or fraudulent statements, information or proof submitted by a claimant, or the continuation of payments after the death of a participant or beneficiary entitled to them, the Trustees (or the Plan Administrator or any other designee duly authorized by the Trustees) will have full authority, in their sole and absolute discretion, to recover the amount of any overpayment plus interest and costs. That authority includes, but is not limited to, the right to:

- reduce benefits payable in the future to the person who received the overpayment
- reduce benefits payable to a surviving spouse or other beneficiary who is, or may become, entitled to receive payments under the Plan following the death of that person and/or
- initiate a lawsuit or take such other legal action as may be necessary to recover any overpayment, plus interest and costs, against the person who received the overpayment, or such person's estate.

Your Disclosures to the Plan

The information you give to the Fund Office, including statements concerning your age and marital status, affects the calculation of your benefits. If any of the information you provide is false, you may be required to indemnify and repay the Plan for any losses or damages caused by your false statements. Additionally, if the Plan makes payments as a result of false statements, the Fund Office may elect to pursue the matter by referring the matter to the appropriate authorities for a criminal investigation.

Fund Administration

The Pension Plan is what the law calls a "defined benefit" pension program. Benefits are provided, in the amounts specified in the Plan rules and regulations, from the Fund's assets. These assets are accumulated under the provisions of the Trust Agreement and are held in a Trust Fund for the purpose of providing benefits to participants and defraying reasonable administrative expenses. The Fund is administered by the Board of Trustees.

Collective Bargaining Agreements/Contributing Employers

The Plan is financed by contributions paid to the Fund by employers as required under the various collective bargaining agreements (CBAs) negotiated with the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, Moving Picture Technicians, Artists, and Allied Crafts of the United States and Canada and its affiliated locals. You are not required or permitted to contribute to the Plan.

Copies of applicable collective bargaining agreements may be obtained upon written request to the Fund Office, and they are available for examination during normal business hours at the Fund Office. In addition, a complete list of bargaining units participating in the Fund may be obtained upon written request to the Fund Office and is available for examination by covered persons and beneficiaries during normal business hours at the Fund Office. The Fund Office may charge a reasonable amount for copies.

Participants and their beneficiaries may also receive from the Fund Office, upon written request, information as to whether a particular employer or employee organization is participating in the Fund and, if the employer or employee organization is participating, its address.

Plan Interpretation

The Board of Trustees and/or its duly authorized designee(s) has the exclusive right, power, and authority, in its sole and absolute discretion, to administer, apply and interpret the Plan, including this booklet, the Trust Agreement and any other Plan documents, and to decide all matters arising in connection with the operation or administration of the Fund or Trust. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Board of Trustees and/or its duly authorized designee(s) shall have the sole and absolute discretionary authority to do any of the following:

- take all actions and make all decisions with respect to the eligibility for, and the amount of, benefits payable under the Plan
- formulate, interpret and apply rules, regulations and policies necessary to administer the Plan in accordance with the terms of the Plan
- decide questions, including legal or factual questions, relating to the calculation and payment of benefits under the Plan
- resolve and/or clarify any ambiguities, inconsistencies and omissions arising under the Plan, including this book, the Trust Agreement or other Plan documents
- process and approve or deny benefit claims
- determine the standard of proof required in any case.

All determinations and interpretations made by the Board of Trustees and/or its duly authorized designee(s) are final and binding upon all participants, beneficiaries and any other individuals claiming benefits under the Plan. The Board of Trustees may delegate any other such duties or powers as it deems necessary to carry out the administration of the Plan.

Your Rights Under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA)

As a participant in the IATSE National Pension Fund, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA). ERISA provides that all Plan participants shall be entitled to the following.

Receive Information About Your Plan and Benefits

- Examine, without charge, at the Fund Office and at other specified locations, such as work locations and union halls, all documents governing the Plan, including insurance contracts, collective bargaining agreements, detailed annual reports, an updated summary plan description and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 series) filed by the Plan with the Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.
- Obtain copies of all Plan documents and other Plan information upon written request to the Fund Administrator. The Fund Administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.
- Receive a summary of the Plan's annual financial report. The Fund Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant with a copy of this summary annual report.
- Obtain a statement telling you whether you have a right to receive a pension at normal retirement age (age 65) and if so, what your benefits would be at normal retirement age if you stop working under the Plan now. If you do not have a right to a pension, the statement will tell you how many more years you have to work to get a right to a pension. This statement must be requested in writing and is not required to be given more than once every 12 months. The Plan must provide the statement free of charge.

Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the Plan. The people who operate your Plan, called “fiduciaries” of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other Plan participants and beneficiaries. No one, including your employer, your union, or any other person, may fire you or discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a pension or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforcing Your Rights

If your claim for a pension is denied in whole or in part, you have the right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision, without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules. You have the right to have the Plan review and reconsider your claim.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request materials from the Plan, such as Plan documents and annual reports, and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Fund Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the Administrator.

If you have a claim for benefits that is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a domestic relations order, you may file suit in a federal court. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan's money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees; for example, if it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance With Your Questions

If you have any questions about your Pension Fund benefits, you should contact the Fund Administrator. ## Clossary

This section provides definitions of important terms used in this booklet to help you better understand your retirement benefits and how they work.

Affiliated local is a local union chartered by or affiliated with the Union.

Beneficiary means the person you name to receive any benefits provided by the Plan if you die.

Collective bargaining agreement means a negotiated agreement between an employer and the Union or an affiliated local requiring contributions to the IATSE National Pension Fund. It determines the amount of contributions employers are required to make to the Fund for work in covered employment.

Contributing employer is an employer that has signed a collective bargaining agreement with the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, Moving Picture Technicians, Artists, and Allied Crafts of the United States and Canada (the Union) or any local union chartered by or affiliated with the Union (an affiliated local).

Contribution date. An employer's contribution date is the first date for which that contributing employer is required to contribute to the Pension Fund for any employee. Your contribution date is the employer contribution date of the first employer that contributes to the Fund on your behalf.

Covered employment means work for which a contributing employer is required to contribute to the Pension Fund on your behalf under Plan B. For those who earned future service credit before August 15, 2001, it also includes work during the period before your contribution date for which contributions to the Plan are now required.

Early retirement means when you can retire and receive a reduced benefit. If you are vested, you can retire early when you are at least age 55 but not yet age 65.

Employee is someone who works for an employer that contributes to the Pension Fund as required by a collective bargaining agreement and includes full-time Fund employees. Office and clerical employees and duly elected or appointed officers of an affiliated local are also eligible to participate in the Plan if the affiliated local makes contributions on behalf of those officers and employees.

ERISA means the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974. This act established certain rights to obtain information and protections for participants in all retirement plans. It also imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the administration of retirement plans.

Future service credit is pension credit you earn for work in covered employment after your contribution date.

Normal retirement means when you can retire and receive an unreduced benefit. This occurs at age 65, as long as you meet the necessary service requirements.

---

Normal retirement age is age 65 or your age at the fifth anniversary of Plan participation, whichever is later.

One-year break in service occurs generally if you are not credited with 37½ days of covered employment in a given calendar year.

Past service credit is pension credit you earn for work in covered employment before your contribution date. You can earn past service credit only if you earned future service credit before August 15, 2001.

Pension credit is your years, or fractions of years, of past or future service credit for work in covered employment as determined by the provisions of the Plan. (You can earn past service credit only if you earned future service credit before August 15, 2001.)

Permanent break in service occurs generally when you have five consecutive one-year breaks in service.

Plan is the IATSE National Pension Fund Plan B.

Protracted absence is two consecutive calendar years, during each of which you fail to work at least 37½ days in covered employment. It could affect which rules are used to calculate the amount of your pension.

Retired means you have stopped working in covered employment.

Spouse is the person to whom you are married when benefits begin. If you're married at least one year and die before benefits begin, the person to whom you were married at the time of your death is considered your spouse.

Totally and permanently disabled means you are eligible for disability benefits under Social Security.

Union means the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees, Moving Picture Technicians, Artists, and Allied Crafts of the United States and Canada.

Vested means your non-forfeitable right to receive a future benefit from the Plan, even if you leave covered employment before you retire.

Appendix A

How Your Pension Benefit Is Calculated When Work Patterns Vary

The monthly amount of your Plan B pension is a calculation that uses your weighted average benefit level and your years of pension credit. As described on page 14, your weighted average benefit level is based on the level of employer contributions made on your behalf during your final three years of work. The examples in this booklet assume that you worked 210 days in each of your final three years and at a consistent contribution rate each year. Since actual employment patterns may vary, what follows is a more detailed explanation of how your weighted average benefit level is calculated under less consistent work patterns.

If you work 210 days at different employer contribution rates in one or more of your final three years. If you work 210 days at different employer contribution rates in one or more of your final three years, the benefit levels associated with the contribution rates for each day are added together and then divided by 210. The result is your average benefit level for that year. Once the average benefit levels for your final three years are determined, they are added together and divided by three to calculate your weighted average benefit level.

For example, if you worked 50 days at $15/day, 150 days at $14/day, and 10 days at $5/day in your last year of covered employment, the average benefit level for that year would be calculated as follows:

Step 1	Using the chart on page 14, your benefit levels for your last year of employment are determined to be $81.66, $77.17 and $37.75.
Step 2	BENEFIT LEVEL	DAYS WORKED	TOTAL
	$81.66	50	= $4,083.00
	$77.17	150	= $11,575.50
	$37.75	10	= $377.50
Step 3	$4,083.00 + $11,575.50 + $377.50 = $16,036
Step 4	$16,036/210 days = $76.36 $76.36 = Your average benefit level for your last year of covered employment

Assuming that the average for your other two final years was $81.66 (because you worked consistently at the $15 contribution rate), your weighted average benefit level would be $81.66 + $81.66 + $76.46 (or $239.68) divided by 3, or $78.89.

If you work fewer than 210 days in one or more of your final three years.

If you work fewer than 210 days in one or more of your final three years, your weighted average benefit level is determined by your last three years of future service credit, regardless of how long it took to earn these years. Remember that future service credit is earned in fractions of 1/20, so you need 60/20s to earn three years of future service.

For example, assume you had the following work history:

		FUTURE SERVICE CREDIT EARNED
		For the Period	Cumulative
2008	55 days	5/20	5/20
2007	111 days	11/20	16/20
2006	64 days	6/20	22/20
2005	62 days	6/20	28/20
2004	152 days	14/20	42/20
2003	187 days	17/20	59/20
2002	50 days	5/20	64/20

Since you earned 59/20, or two and 19/20 years of future service credit between 2003 and 2008, only 1/20 credit is needed from 2002, which requires only one day of covered employment. Therefore, the last day earned in 2002 is used to calculate the average benefit level, bringing the total to 60/20, or three future service credits. See the chart on the next page for a look at how your pension benefit is calculated in this example.

To calculate your pension benefit in this example, an average benefit level is first calculated separately for each year, as follows:

YEAR	DAYS (A)	RATE (B)	BENEFIT LEVEL (C)	DAYS (A) X BENEFIT LEVEL (C) = (D)	TOTAL DAYS IN YEAR (E)	FUTURE SERVICE CREDIT EARNED (F)	AVERAGE BENEFIT LEVEL PER DAY X FUTURE SERVICE EARNED PER YEAR [TOTAL FROM (D) DIVIDED BY (E) MULTIPLIED BY (F)]
2008	40	10.00	61.11	2,444.40
	5	9.00	56.42	282.10
	10	8.00	51.75	517.50
			3,244.00	÷	55	x	5/20 (0.25)	=	$14.7454
2007	36	9.00	56.42	2,031.12
	75	8.00	51.75	3,881.25
			5,912.37	÷	111	x	11/20 (0.55)	=	$29.2955
2006	32	9.00	56.42	1,805.44
	32	8.00	51.75	1,656.00
			3,461.44	÷	64	x	6/20 (0.3)	=	$16.2255
2005	62	9.00	56.42	3,498.04
			3,498.04	÷	62	x	6/20 (0.3)	=	$16.9260
2004	151	9.00	56.42	8,519.42
	1	8.00	51.75	51.75
			8,571.17	÷	152	x	14/20 (0.7)	=	$39.4725
2003	187	9.00	56.42	10,550.54
			10,550.54	÷	187	x	17/20 (0.85)	=	$47.9570
2002	1	9.00	56.42	56.42
			56.42	÷	1	x	1/20 (0.05)	=	$2.8210
							3	$167.4429

To determine your weighted average benefit level, the weighted totals for each year are added together and divided by three. In this example, $167.4429 is divided by 3, which is $55.8143. Assuming you had 15 years of pension credit, your benefit at normal retirement age would be $837.25 per month ($55.8143 x 15 = 837.21, rounded up to 837.25).

If you work more than 210 days in your final three years of covered employment. If you work more than 210 days in either or both of your two most recent years, all days are counted to determine your average benefit level for these years. However, if you work more than 210 days in the oldest of your three most recent years, your benefit level is based only on the most recent 210 days, regardless of how many days you actually worked in that year.

For example, if you worked 240 days each year in 2006, 2007 and 2008 and then retired, your weighted average benefit level would be calculated as follows:

Step 1	Add the benefit levels for all 240 days in 2008 and divide by 240. The result is your average benefit level for 2008.
Step 2	Add the benefit levels for all 240 days in 2007 and divide by 240. The result is your average benefit level for 2007.
Step 3	Add the benefit levels for the most recent 210 days in 2006, counting backward from December 31, 2006, and then divide by 210. (For example, if you worked 30 days in January 2006, and 210 days from February through December 2006, the 30 days in January 2006 would be disregarded in the calculation.)
Step 4	Add the average benefit levels from steps 1, 2 and 3, above, and divide by 3. This result is your weighted average benefit level .

If you did not earn three years of future service credit. If you did not earn three years of future service credit, your weighted average benefit level is calculated based on the amount of future service credit that you did earn. For example, if you earned only two years of future service credit, your weighted average benefit level would be calculated by adding the average benefit levels for both years and dividing by two.
